Abstract:

Cancer is a problem of cells and their miscreant behaviour pattern and Dr. Wheatley has devoted 40 years of his life to cancer research. He has contributed to the furthering of science and good medicine throughout the world .

The work can have a powerful potential to affect the way in which tumours are selected for treatment and in the protocols by which therapy is administered.

His research work in different fields has also been recognized around the world. He has published more than 215 journal papers. He is the Chairman of IFCB, Editor-in-Chief of Cell Biology International and Cancer Cell International Journals.
